TALK ABOUT IT FIELD

There are many ways to enter a IT field. I Will try to explain some of them :

- ❖ Developer : Web developer/Front end developer/Back end Developer etc. all comes under this point. They are responsible for created a software for a purpose using coding and any programming language.
- ❖ Software Testing : They are responsible for testing of the product once it has been developed by the developer and send the report of any bugs or errors.
- ❖ Designer : They are used for creating graphics for the software which gives it a dynamic look.
- ❖ Networking : They are used to create a strong network between two or more systems so that they could share data efficiently.
- ❖ Database Architecture : Person who is responsible for managing and taking care of database where the user stores the data to be used. They need to have strong knowledge of SQL.

FRONTEND DEVELOPMENT

- ❖ Everything you see on a website, like buttons, links, animations, and more, were created by a front end web developer. It is the front end developer's job to take the vision and design concept from the client and implement it through code.
- ❖ Everything on the page from the logo to the search bar, buttons, overall layout and how the user interacts with the page was created by a front end developer. Front end developers are in charge of the look and feel of the website.

WHY THIS COURSE?

❖ I believe that the main reason is that front-end development satisfies my need for creativity. It enabled me to easily put my ideas into digital form and get results back really quick. I still remember the first time I created an HTML page and opened it in the browser.
